

YOUNG WILL SELL CAPITOL CONTENTS ON AUCTION BLOCK

Historic Water Barrel Is Included in Goods to Be Sold

DATE IS JANUARY 30.

One water barrel, two 16-quart mule pails, are among the articles enumerated in the list of capitol furnishings that George U. Young will sell by auction on January 30. Patriotic Arizonians will be plunged in gloom when they remember that the water barrel is the one that saved the tongues of the men who created Arizona's constitution. The mule pails performed faithful service, bearing aqua to the barrel, says the Gazette.

Ignorant of the obscure destiny that awaits it, the water barrel sits in the hallway leading from the council chamber to the house chamber. Keeping humble vigil by its side are the two 16-quart mule pails. Around the trio hovers the same philosophic calm that in times past marked it as neutral ground, where the battle cry was hushed, where friend and foe gripped hands and swapped stories.

But all this will soon be history. After January 30 the old water barrel—probably separated by the iron of fate from its comrades, the two 16-quart mule pails—will be purging the lowly tenor of its way in some mining camp, or, mayhap, even replying on the sidewalk in front of the shop of some shrewd second-hand dealer, unsought and unclaimed.

The water barrel and the two mule pails are only a small parcel of what Secretary Young will auction on January 30. It will be a sort of double-barreled affair, this auction. There will be two separate lots—the property purchased from the statehood appropriation and the federal property. The barrel and mule pails fall under the first heading. Included with them are sixteen revolving desk chairs, sixteen desks—all in the house chamber, where the constitutional convention was held.

The federal furnishings are the largest lot. Included among them are the desks and chairs in both the council and house chambers, which have been used in the past by the members of the territorial legislative assemblies; also the furnishings in the office of Secretary Young, and several desks and chairs that have been loaned to other offices about the capitol. The aggregate value of the property that will be sold by auction is $30,000. Secretary Young will be the auctioneer, as the government does not provide for any extra expense in connection with the auction.

WANTED: A BRIGHT AGRONOMIST

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—The United States is in need of a capable agronomist. Anyone filling the bill may take the civil service examination tomorrow and if successful will be placed on Uncle Sam's payroll for $2,400 a year. The duties of the position will consist in conducting experiments in the adoption and breeding of varieties of oats and in studying the methods of cultivation, harvesting and threshing of this grain and its use as a cereal. Such investigations involve much traveling during the growing season, with laboratory work during the winter at Washington. The position comes under the Bureau of Plant Industry in the department of agriculture.

Arizona News Brevities

For the first time since the first case was docketed in the federal court of Arizona the calendar will have been cleared during the present month in all five of the judicial districts. There now remain only three cases, two in Tucson and one in Prescott and these are expected to be disposed of within the next two weeks.

Fabulous Ore Reported.
Wonderful ore discovered in an old mine near Haiker is reported in Prescott by two mining men who have just inspected the property. This ore is said to carry fabulous values in gold. The location of the property is not disclosed.

Fur Shipped East.
The hides upon which bounties amounting to over $2,000 had been paid by Yavapai county were sold this week and brought the county $300. They were bought by a party from New Mexico who will ship them east.

Omit Justice Vote.
Advices from Phoenix are to the effect that the election board is not including the vote for justices of the peace and precinct officers in its count. There it is held that the precinct officers will hold over.

Plan Cyanide Plant.
The construction of a cyanide plant at Mammoth in Pinal county, for the output of the Mohawk mine is to be started within two weeks. The well which was shut down while an effort was made to find a more plentiful supply of water by deepening well again has been started.

Fear Race War.
Mexicans at Ray fear that it is intended to replace them with Japanese. The arrival of eight Japs from Phoenix gave rise to the rumors and feeling is said to be running high with danger of an incipient race war threatening.

May Have Bandits.
Several arrests of suspects in Phoenix are believed to solve the mystery of the numerous hold-ups and assaults that have occasioned much unfavorable comment in the past few weeks. The police are confident that they have the right men.

Form Law Partnership.
Reese M. Ling formerly of Prescott and George J. Stoneman of Globe are reported to have associated themselves in a law partnership at Phoenix. Both partners are giving up old residences and are locating at the new state capitol.

Prisoners Break Jail.
Four prisoners confined in the Cocconino county jail at Flagstaff on felony charges, broke jail on Wednesday night. No details of the methods they employed in making their escape have been received although the name and description of each of the late prisoners have been sent broadcast by the Cocconino sheriff's office.

Indians Have Measels.
An epidemic of measles is reported to be ranging among the children of the Navajo tribe in the northern part of the state. The number of deaths reported has been very heavy and the disease is serious in the winter time. The outbreak was first reported by the doctor at Fort Defiance.

Hayden Has Problem.
Representative elect to congress, Carl Hayden has a problem to solve. Should he take his oath of office immediately the president proclaims statehood, Maricopa county will be without a sheriff until the supervisors of that county meet, while if he does not Arizona will be unrepresented at Washington since Cameron's statehood ends at once when statehood is proclaimed.

Five Counties Canvassed.
The canvassing board at Phoenix is pushing on with its work. Up to Thursday evening the count had been completed in five counties. Greaslee was taken up and completed yesterday and more than a hundred of the 350 precincts have now been checked over.

INAUGURATION DAY CEREMONIES GIVEN DUE CONSIDERATION

Phoenix Board of Trade
Is Preparing Good Program

SUBMITTED TO HUNT

PHOENIX, Jan. 12.—Standing in plain view of all who care to gather in front of the capitol building, Governor-elect G. W. P. Hunt will take the oath of office on the porch on the second floor of the building, if the plans made at the board of trade yesterday evening meet with the new executive's approval.

At the request of Hunt the ceremony will be simple. It will be merely to take the oath of office, and if he desires, to deliver a brief address to those gathered on the ground below. With him to take the oath at the same time, will be the remainder of the state officers elected December 12.

Governor R. E. Sloan, President J. H. McClintock of the board of trade, Secretary Harry Welch, Attorney General-elect G. P. Bullard, Secretary-elect S. P. Osborn, Congressman-elect Carl Hayden, Walter Brannan and Frank DeSouza planned the inaugural ceremony, subject to Hunt's approval.

Hunt Wants Simplicity.
Governor-elect Hunt recently wrote McClintock, informing him that he preferred as simple a ceremony as possible. The plans made yesterday will in all probability meet with his sanction, inasmuch as the inauguration will be without any ostentation and still be viewed by all who care to see the first state governor started off.

Governor Hunt will be asked to hold a reception in his chambers for those who wish to shake him by the hand and wish him well. There will be no invitations, the general public being hidden to attend all that takes place.

The committee decided that Phoenix should do something in the way of a greeting to the new state officers, and it was practically decided to hold a reception in the evening in the lobby of the Hotel Adams. The public will be given a chance to meet the new officials.

Governor Sloan announced that as soon as the statehood proclamation is signed by President Taft he will issue his last territorial proclamation, fixing the day of the inauguration as a public holiday in Arizona.

Mayor Christy and the board of trade were made a committee to name a large committee which will take charge of the arrangements for the ceremony on inauguration day.

In the first ten days, at this rate the count should be completed by January 25.

Form New Association.
In Phoenix there has been formed an association of businessmen known as the Merchants and Manufacturers association. Practically 100 business firms are said to be on the membership list. The object is to promote co-operation toward the advancement of business interests.

Sheriff Elect Dies.
Charles Foreman, sheriff elect of Pinal county, died on Wednesday of pneumonia. He was fifty-two years of age and had resided in Arizona practically all of his life.

REPUBLICAN AGENT OF PUBLICITY HERE

Man Who Handled Dope for Losing Party Is Bisbee Visitor

George H. Clements, former editor of the Globe Silver Herald and later publicity agent for the republican party in Arizona during the campaign just closed, arrived in Bisbee yesterday afternoon and will spend today here. Mr. Clements is one of the best known as well as one of the ablest newspaper men in the southwest, and also has a past equally as brilliant in newspaper work in Chicago and other eastern cities.

Mr. Clements' particular ability seems to lie in "reporting" fights, from revolutions to political. He was on the staff of the El Paso Herald during the latter part of the recent revolution in Mexico and graduated from that service in the recent Arizona campaign. During the campaign he sat on the back deck of the Silver Herald and was later employed by the republican state central committee to mould grape shot and canister at Phoenix and he did the best he could with the material he had.

Mr. Clements' home is in Ysleta, Tex., twelve miles south of El Paso, in the El Paso valley, where he owns a producing ranch. The editor remarked yesterday that he had been at home since the middle of last June and did not know whether the hired help was growing alfalfa or apples.

FIRST MATERIAL FOR NEW SMELTER COMES

Car of Cement Receiver and 500 Cars of Material Coming

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Jan. 12.—The first car of cement for the new smelter of the Calumet and Arizona smelter arrived yesterday from El Paso, where the contract for all the cement required for the concrete foundations and buildings has been awarded. It is expected now that cement will be coming along as fast as required, and that very soon the foundation work will be under way. It will require time for the structural iron contractors to manufacture the material and none of it is expected to arrive for sixty days, but in the meantime the foundation work will be pushed to completion. It has been estimated that including brick, cement and all other material required for the new smelter will require not less than 500 cars to haul it to Douglas, and this will give an idea of the importance of the work which has been started by the C. & A. company.

PLAYS AND LAYERS

Arnold Daly is to appear in a revival of "The Fatted Calf."

Cyril Scott has closed his season with "A Gentleman of Leisure."

"Little Nemo" is soon to be revived with a cast largely composed of mid-west.

Carrie Reynolds has left John Cortis "Jacinta" company, and will go into vaudeville.

Gilbert and Sullivan's greatest works were produced in this country without netting the authors a penny.

Franz Lehar's new play of the musical sort is called, "Eva." It will be produced by George Edwards in London.

Lois Dresser will make a short tour in vaudeville while she is waiting for the completion of a new musical comedy.

"The First Lady of the Land" by Charles Nirdlinger, in which Elsie Ferguson is starring, is to be made into a novel.

BLOCKADED

Every household in Bisbee Should Know How to Resist It

The back aches because the kidneys are blocked.
Help the kidneys with their work. The back will ache no more.

Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

It's the best proof, for it comes from this vicinity.
Mrs. H. F. Diehl, 113 E. Tenth St., Tucson, Arizona, says: "I am an enthusiastic in my praise of Doan's Kidney Pills now as I was in February, 1907 when I publicly recommended them. When I have been questioned regarding that testimonial I have vouched for its correctness. I was severely troubled by kidney complaint. My heart was affected and so serious was my condition that I was told I could not live long. Finally I commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills and before long they made me feel like a different person, in fact, I firmly believe they saved my life. Since that time, whenever I have felt the least recurrence of kidney complaint, I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have never failed to give me prompt relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The manuscripts of two new plays. A play of the Maine woods by Owen Davis, called "Making Good," is shortly to be produced by Wm. A. Brady.

William Courtenay will be featured in the production.

It is said that David Belasco has commissioned Brand Whitlock, Mayor of Toledo, novelist and sociologist, to write a political play dealing with the "submerged tenth."

Mrs. Fiske has three new plays for presentation this season: "The Marriage," by Langdon Mitchell; "Julia France," by Gertrude Atherton; and "The War of Souls," by Hicelynn Layson.

E. M. Holland has so far recovered from the injuries he received in Chicago several weeks ago by falling down the elevated stairs, that he is able to rejoin James K. Hackett's company.

Miss Simone is to appear shortly in New York in "The Return from Paris" which has mingled Jewish and Christian characters, though it is not a racial argument.

"He and She" is the title of the comedy by Miss Rachel Crothers, in which Miss Viola Allen will be seen at an early date. The play was tried out earlier in the season by a cast headed by George Fawcett and Miss Emma Dunn.

county, providing for the establishment of a state bureau of immigration, with an appropriation of $12,000 per year, of which $2500 will constitute the salary of the secretary.

The offices of the board are to be at the capitol building in Phoenix and the work of the board for the upbuilding of Arizona will be conducted from that location, the bill provides.

The measure was proposed and endorsed by the Arizona Development board of which H. V. Fallor of Tucson is president. In relation to the bill, Mr. Fallor received from Governor-elect George W. P. Hunt, the following letter Wednesday.

"I have your letter of Jan. 2 enclosing the bill relating to immigration. I will place same on file and it will receive my careful consideration. This question will probably receive the attention of the legislature in the coming session."
